

Jeff Carrel Morillon Blanc Magnum

This wine is made with botrytised grapes (or « noble rot »). Vinified dry Morillon Blanc is the original name for Chardonnay. The older it gets, the stronger the expression of roasted botrytis grapes combined with a more concentrated colour.

Appellation: VDF

Vintage: 2020

Alcohol: 14.5%

Grape varieties: 100% Chardonnay

Terroir: Quartz, granite and limestone pebbles (in different proportions dependant on the plot).

Vines: Pruned in Guyot form / Plots gradually transformed to Royat form / Ground worked in the winter / The grass is mowed in summer / Deleafing.

Vinification methods: Mechanical harvesting / Destemming by machine / Directly pressed / Natural fermentation in tanks under wood / Malolactic fermentation under wood.

Maturing: On lees / 6 months in tanks / Bottling once Jeff is happy with the « Morillon » taste.

Tasting notes:

Straw yellow.

Ripe and expressive notes of pears, peaches and pineapples, with hints of roasted butter.

Well-rounded and rich, with a ripe, dense, almost fatty matter, and an acidity which balances and refreshes the whole. Clear, finely astringent, with the ever present mature fruit, but also toasted bread, a touch of butter and a hint of vanilla.

Pairing:

Cured ham and balls of melon, foie gras mi-cuit, guinea fowl with mushrooms, matured cheeses, apple tart...

Recommendations:

Serve between 10 and 12°C

Aging potential: +10 years
